MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS REPORT

1. ECONOMY OVERVIEW

1.1 Global Economy

Global economic growth registered 2.9% in 2019 (IMF), the weakest pace since the global financial crisis a decade ago, reflecting a series of shocks which had common repercussions across boundaries in spite of idiosyncratic factors in different countries. An array of events trade tensions between US and China, delay in Brexit, an impending recession on account of global macro-financial conditions, oil market disruptions, geo-political tensions (Iran and North Korea), social unrest (Venezuela, Libya and Yemen), country specific risks in large emerging market economies such as India, Brazil, Russia and Mexico posed significant spillover risk to all major economies around the globe including advanced economies in Europe and other emerging market economies. Central Banks across the globe reacted aggressively to the sluggish activity by reducing interest rates, which averted a deeper slowdown. The measures taken bolstered purchase of non-durable goods and services that supported job creation thus helping the economy to stay afloat. Concurrently, fears of recession in the US faded away with the correction in inverted US vield curve. Commodity market behaviour was inherently unpredictable induced by geopolitical risks due to which supply side could not establish a complementary relationship with demand. The expectation of gradual recovery in global economy or substantial evidence of resisting a full-blown recession has become considerably muted due to the threat raised by Covid-19. The virus had spread to more than 200 countries in a very short span of time. Economies around the alobe took time to realise the pandemic nature of the disease. for which heavy price is being paid in general. The severity of the global pandemic is highly ambiguous, but it is clear that the wider its spread, the more deadly and destructive the virus can become. It is expected to play a decisive role in moulding the future of global economy. The greater the odds of a global downturn, anticipated economic downturn could be deeper and the subsequent recovery could be weaker reflecting the devastation inflicted by the pandemic. The crisis is unprecedented. The permanent output loss associated with the Novel Coronavirus and related containment measures are likely to exceed the losses from the Global Financial Crisis 2008-09. There is uncertainty on the duration and intensity of the pandemic and no single conventional method of stimulating economic activity may be effective to revive the economy. The current situation demands that the focus be on slowing down the spread of virus, protecting the precious lives and better preparedness by health care sector. The Global Economy is expected to experience its worst recession since the Great Depression of the 1930s, leading to a dramatic shrinkage in growth. Reverberations of the recession may last for a few years, if the pandemic lasts long. It is expected that tight financial conditions persist which would, in turn, lead to job losses and insolvency of firms. The swift and substantial economic policy action taken in many countries to support people and the earliest timeframe within which a vaccine is developed may pin down the shape of recovery to be V/U/W or even a convoluted Swoosh type.

1.2 Indian Economy

FY 20 started off on an optimistic note with the Government receiving stronger mandate for the second successive term, which raised hopes of continuity in policy and reforms framework. However, the economy was grappling with slow macro numbers throughout the Year in tune with global weakness. India's GDP had grown at 5.2% in Q1, 4.4% in Q2, 4.1% in Q3 and 3.1% in Q4 aggregating to a growth of 4.2% for the full year. The cumulative IIP (Index of Industrial Production) for the period April-March 2019-20 has contracted by 0.7% over the corresponding period of the previous year. Trade deficit for the period April-January 2019-20 reduced to USD 133.27 Billion from USD 163.275 Billion of the corresponding period of the previous year because of reduction in oil price and reduced demand for imported goods. Economy was going through a more than anticipated slowdown, as weakness in the real sector and stress in the financial sector were acting together to bring down the growth numbers. This deceleration in the economy was led by a sharp slowdown in gross fixed capital formation and sluggishness in private final consumption expenditure. A fall in major economic indicators such as industrial production, exports, bank credit, tax collections, freight movement, automobiles sales and electricity production in addition to slowing global growth and uncertainties emanating from trade conflict were pointing towards an inarguable slackening of growth. The economy was facing an increasing propensity to save and a decreasing propensity to invest especially by private corporates, which forced the Government to use fiscal and monetary space to keep the economy moving. Global market volatility and return to safe-haven have undoubtedly influenced Indian markets, which have put additional stress on the financial sector that already had constraints in uplifting the economy. If the pandemic does not subside soon, the economy may contract in FY21 resulting in permanent output loss of Rs. 16-25 Trillion or 10%-12% of GDP. Unemployment rates which were already at peak are set to rise to nearly 25% from the current stage. Therefore, it is of utmost priority that Governments at the Centre and States need to be extremely zealous through fiscal support to recoup the losses by supporting vulnerable firms and restore normalcy in the economy.

1.3 NBFC Industry

Since the last decade, the NBFC sector has held critical importance in the Indian Financial Services sector. The main objective of NBFCs has been serving the underserved segment of the Indian economy such as MSME, microfinance and other retail segments. Over the past few years NBFCs have undergone a significant transformation and today they form an important component of India's financial system. NBFCs are harnessing technology to reinvent traditional business models and offer loans in a faster, customised and more convenient way to the under banked population of India. NBFCs especially those catering to the urban and rural poor namely NBFC-MFIs and Asset Finance Companies have a complimentary role in the financial inclusion agenda of the country. Most NBFCs leverage alternative and technology-driven credit appraisal methodologies to ascertain the credit worthiness of prospective borrowers. This differentiated and unique approach allows them to meet loan requirements of individuals and businesses left traditionally underserved by banks. With the introduction of e-KYC and digital loan agreements making borrowing an instant and hassle-free experience, NBFC lenders are already offering the right financial products to consumers and small businesses in a customised manner. The use of technology to optimise business processes also keeps cost overheads to a minimum, enabling credit to be availed at highly competitive interest rates. Moreover, NBFCs often have deep regional reach, which they leverage to build robust relationships with their target customer bases. Many new-age NBFCs have started investing in analytics and AI capabilities to connect to their customers in a hyper-personalised manner to serve their credit needs better.

It was a clear indication during the Budgets in July 2019 and February 2020, that the financial services sector, being the backbone of the economy, would be a focus area to boost the economy and investor confidence. For the NBFC sector, the limit to be eligible for debt recovery under the SARFAESI Act, 2002 has been proposed to be reduced from Rs. 5 billion to asset size of Rs. 1 billion or loan size from existing Rs. 10 million to Rs. 5 million.

Secondly, the Factoring Regulation Act, 2011 has been proposed to be amended so as to enable the NBFCs to extend invoice financing to the micro, small and medium enterprises (MSMEs) through the Trade Receivables Discounting System (TReDS), thereby enhancing their economic and financial sustainability.

NBFCs (including HFCs) outstanding AUM stood at Rs. 27.3 trillion as at FY19. From FY14-FY19, it grew at a CAGR of 17%. The NBFC sector (including HFCs) are expected to post an AUM growth of 6-8% in FY20, as compared to 13% in FY19 (Source: CRISIL). Slow economic growth on account of pre-existing macroeconomic factors, COVID-19 lockdown impact, rising borrowing cost and constrained funding access are some of the reasons behind the moderated growth rate. However, NBFCs with largely retail granular portfolio are having lesser difficulty in accessing funds. These retail focused NBFCs, as they have a derisked portfolio, are facing lesser challenge as compared to whole-sale focused NBFCs. Similarly, in case of SCBs, the GNPA ratio remained unchanged at 9.3% in September, 2019 as compared to March, 2019. However, NNPA ratio declined moderately as of September, 2019 indicating an increase in provisioning as compared to March, 2019.

Since 2019 though, this segment has faced few difficulties due to the liquidity crisis on account of failure of an infrastructure finance company. Banks tightened their credit flows and this liquidity squeeze reduced the pace of acceleration of credit as entities chose to focus on asset-liability management over AUM growth. Also, Mutual Funds (MFs) witnessed a fall in NBFC exposure due to liquidity concerns and reduction in sectoral exposure limit by SEBI in NBFC from 25% to 20%. As a result of which share of AMC-MFs in outstanding borrowings fell from 33.0% in Jun-2018 to 25.9% in Sep-2019 for NBFCs, and from 33.1% in Jun- 2018 to 26.7% in Sep-2019 for HFCs. Alternatively, NBFCs and HFCs have resorted to banks for their funding needs via term loans, securitisation and assignment.

Further to counter future liquidity risk in the sector, RBI introduced a new liquidity risk management framework. Under the new framework, non-deposit taking NBFCs with asset size of more than Rs. 100 billion and all deposit taking NBFCs will have to maintain a liquidity coverage ratio (LCR) requirement of 50% by December 01, 2020 and progressively increase it to 100% by December, 2024. Similarly, non-deposit taking NBFCs with asset size between Rs. 50 billion and Rs. 100 billion would be required to have a minimum LCR of 30% by December 01, 2020. This might have produced short-term pain in the industry but it's an excellent long-term measure to protect the sector from externalities, boost confidence in robustness of the sector, lower cost of funds for NBFCs (due to lower risk perception) and improve the overall risk management frameworks across the industry.

After the break-out of Covid-19, RBI gave respite to NBFCs by Liquidity boosting measures by way of Targeted Long-Term Repo Operations (TLTRO) of Rs 500 billion that targets midand small-sized nonbank financial companies (NBFCs) and microfinance institutions (MFIs). This measure will assist them in managing their ALM position better. A halt to asset classification till May 31, 2020, along with giving a further 90-day extension for asset recognition, i.e., a moratorium on NPA classification which was further extended to 31st August 2020. It is expected Government will come out with further measures at an appropriate time for bringing more stability in the sector.

1.4 Factoring Industry

The world factoring statistics showed solid business growth in the year 2019, indicating positive trends in most regions of the world. The 2019 volume shows a growth of 5% YOY, reaching Euro 2.91 Trillion from Euro 2.76 Trillion in 2018. Considering the continuation of trade war between China and USA and various other geo-political issues globally, especially in larger factoring markets like the UK, Turkey, Russia, Greater China, and South Africa etc., 2019 turned out to be quiet a good year overall for the factoring industry.

As per FCI data, Indian Factoring industry has, in fact, far exceeded the global trend, with a YOY growth rate of 12.3 % over last year's growth of 6%, achieving an annual turnover of Euro 5.09 billion, in spite of adverse macroeconomic conditions and recessionary trends seen all over the industry in India and globally.

The largest factoring market continues to be Europe with an increased market share of 67.75 % in 2019 over last year, followed by Asia Pacific, with a decreased share of 23.57%, while the Americas maintained their share at roughly about 7.5%.

Thus, it is evident, that factoring business in India continues to grow YOY and the trend and is still evolving. While globally, it remains a widely acceptable proposition in India the business has witnessed several stumbling blocks during its course so far. However, the Indian government has made several efforts to provide a facilitating regulatory environment for factoring business to develop and the desired effects are now emerging, with the MSME segment being the biggest beneficiary, where the banks do not readily extend credit without tangible collaterals.

2. Operational Performance

3. Opportunities

- i) The Company is only operating in working capital space for the entire IFCI Group.
- ii) The Company has been extended rights under SARFAESI.
- iii) The Company has joined Credit Guarantee Fund Scheme for Factoring, having a corpus of Rs. 500 crore, introduced by Ministry of Finance, to facilitate factoring transactions for MSMEs.

- iv) Funding gap in more than 45 million SME's in the Country gives enormous opportunity as banks have not been able to meet the funding needs to this sector.
- v) Factoring being a flexible, transaction based short term credit, it is a perfect source of finance for the MSME sector.
- vi) Factoring business in India is far from reaching the maturity stage, this offers growth opportunity to serious player like IFCI Factors Ltd.
- vii)International Factoring at a nascent stage in India, this provides a major growth segment.

4. Threats

- i) The Company does not have DRT access.
- ii) Provisioning requirement for the impaired assets to the extent of 100% is required to be made within 12 months due to unsecured nature of facilities which has adverse impact on the profitability of the Factoring entities.

5. Outlook

The Company would strive to maintain its asset quality through vigilant monitoring, recovery of its non- performing assets, arrest further slippages of the accounts into NPA and grow its asset base with addition of quality assets.

The challenges and opportunities remain in general to the all the players within the factoring industry, and it hinges to a large extent on the management of NPA's and ensuing recovery made. The Factoring still has a lot of untapped potential, especially within the MSME sector. The government is also backing the development of this product, underlining its importance towards fuelling industrial growth.

To conclude, we can say that there are better days in the offing for factoring industry, as we are on the threshold of a new beginning. The Factoring product holds promise and recent developments in the form of credit guarantee scheme under the aegis of Govt of India, revisiting of credit protection clause by IRDA, enhancing the ambit of SARFAESI Act, passing of Banking & Insolvency Bill, 2016 etc., would go a long way towards promoting the overall factoring industry.

6. Risks and concerns

- i) More than 70% of overall asset base of the Company is unsecured.
- ii) Increased competition from banks consequent to permission to banks to undertake business of factoring in India.
- iii) Prolonged litigation involved in recovery of dues through cheque bouncing and civil cases.
- iv)Cost of funds for an NBFC is higher than banks resulting into shrinking margins and limited offtakes.

7. Internal Control Systems

The Company has an Internal Control System which is commensurate with the size, scale and complexity of its operations.

- The Company's Board of Directors is responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the Director's report and Management Discussion and Analysis report, but does not include the standalone financial statements and our auditor's report thereon. The Director's report and Management Discussion and Analysis report is expected to be made available to us after the date of this auditor's report.
- Our opinion on the standalone financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.
- In connection with our audit of the standalone financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information identified above when it becomes available and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the standalone financial statements or our knowledge obtained during the course of our audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated.

Management's Responsibility for the Standalone Financial Statements

The Company's Board of Directors is responsible for the matters stated in section 134(5) of the Act with respect to the preparation of these standalone financial; statements that give a true and fair view of the financial; position, financial; performance including other comprehensive income, cash flows and changes in equity of the Company in accordance with the Ind AS and other accounting principles generally accepted in India. This responsibility also includes maintenance of adequate accounting records in accordance with the provisions of the Act for safeguarding the assets of the Company and for preventing and detecting frauds and other irregularities; selection and application of appropriate accounting policies; making judgments and estimates that are reasonable and prudent; and design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls, that were operating effectively for ensuring the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, relevant to the preparation and presentation of the standalone financial statement that give a true and fair view and are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the standalone financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those Board of Directors are also responsible for overseeing the Company's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibility for the Audit of the Standalone Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the standalone financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with SAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these standalone financial' statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the standalone financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal financial control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances. Under section 143(3)(i) of the Act, we are also responsible for expressing our opinion on whether the Company has adequate internal financial controls system in place and the operating effectiveness of such controls.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the standalone financial! statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the standalone financial' statements, including the disclosures, and whether the standalone financial' statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
- Obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial; information of the Company to express an opinion on the standalone financial; statements.

 Materiality is the magnitude of misstatements in the standalone financial statements that, individually or in aggregate, makes it probable that the economic decisions of a reasonably knowledgeable user of the standalone financial statements may be influenced. We consider quantitative materiality and qualitative factors in (i) planning the scope of our audit work and in evaluating the results of our work and (ii) to evaluate the effect of any identified misstatements in the standalone financial statements.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the standalone financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

The Company's management is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal financial controls based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of ¦internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India. These responsibilities include the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that were operating effectively for ensuring the orderly and efficient conduct of its business, including adherence to company's policies, the safeguarding of its assets, the prevention and detection of frauds and errors, the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records,, and the timely preparation of reliable financial information, as required under the Companies Act, 2013.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Company's internal financial controls over financial reporting based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting (the "Guidance Note") and the Standards on Auditing, issued by ICAI and deemed to be prescribed under section 143(10) of the Companies Act, 2013, to the extent applicable to an audit of internal financial controls, both applicable to an audit of Internal Financial Controls and, both issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India. Those Standards and the Guidance Note require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether adequate internal financial controls over financial reporting was established and maintained and if such controls operated effectively in all material respects.

Our audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the adequacy of the internal financial controls system over financial reporting and their operating effectiveness. Our audit of internal financial controls over financial reporting included obtaining an understanding of internal financial controls over financial reporting, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgement, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the Company's internal financial controls system over financial reporting.

Meaning of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting

A company's internal financial control over financial reporting is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company's internal financial control over financial reporting includes those policies and procedures that (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company; (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorizations of management and directors of the company; and (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorized acquisition, use, or disposition of the company's assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Inherent Limitations of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting

Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls over financial reporting, including the possibility of collusion or improper management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls over financial reporting to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial control over financial reporting may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

Opinion

In our opinion, the Company has, in all material respects, an adequate internal financial controls system over financial reporting and such internal financial controls over financial reporting were operating effectively as at March 31, 2020, based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India.

SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

1 Background

IFCI Factors Limited (IFL) a subsidiary of IFCI and registered as an NBFC-Factor with RBI, is engaged in the business of factoring and related products like Domestic Sales Bill Factoring, Purchase Bill Factoring, Export Bill Factoring, and Advances against Future Receivables. IFL, with a view to expand its product range and diversifying business risk, has also ventured into corporate loans backed by property and/ or pledge of shares.

2 Basis of Preparation of Financial Statements

The financial statements have been prepared in accordance with the Indian Accounting Standards ("Ind AS") on the historical cost basis except for certain financial instruments that are measured at fair values at the end of each reporting period as explained in the accounting policies below and the relevant provisions of The Companies Act, 2013 ("Act"). Accounting policies have been consistently applied except where a newly issued accounting standard is initially adopted or a revision to an existing accounting standard requires a change in the accounting policy hitherto in use.

Historical cost is generally based on the fair value of the consideration given in exchange for goods and services.

Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date, regardless of whether that price is directly observable or estimated using another valuation technique. In estimating the fair value of an asset or a liability, the Company takes into account the characteristics of the asset or liability if market participants would take those characteristics into account when pricing the asset or liability at the measurement date. Fair value for measurement and/ or disclosure purposes in these financial statements is determined on such a basis, except for share based payment transactions that are within the scope of Ind AS 102, leasing transactions that are within the scope of Ind AS 17, and measurements that have some similarities to fair value but are not fair value, such as value in use in Ind AS 36.

3 Functional and Presentation currency

These financial statements are presented in Indian Rupees (INR), which is the Company's functional and presentation currency. All amounts have been denominated in crores and rounded off to the nearest two decimal, except when otherwise indicated.

4 Basis of measurement

- The financial statements have been prepared on a historical cost basis, except for the following material items:
- Financial assets at FVTOCI that is measured at fair value
 Financial instruments at FVTPL that is measured at fair value
- Net defined benefit (asset)/ liability fair value of plan assets less present value of defined benefit obligation

5 Use of judgements and estimates

In preparing these financial statements, management has made judgements, estimates and assumptions that affect the application of accounting policies and the reported amounts of assets and liabilities (including contingent liabilities and assets) as on the date of the financial statements and the reported income and expenses for the reporting period. Management believes that the estimates used in the preparation of the financial statements are prudent and reasonable. Actual results may differ from these estimates.

Estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognised prospectively.

A. Judgements

Information about the judgements made in applying accounting policies that have the most significant effects on the amounts recognised in the financial statements is included in the following notes:

- Classification of financial assets: assessment of business model within which the assets are held and assessment of whether the contractual terms of the financial asset are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

- Impairment of financial assets: establishing the criteria for determining whether credit risk on the financial assets has increased significantly since initial recognition, determining methodology for incorporating forward looking information into measurement of expected credit loss ('ECL') and selection of models used to measure ECL

- Equity accounted investees: whether the Company has significant influence over an investee
- Leases: classification of leases into finance and operating lease

B. Assumptions and estimation uncertainties

Information about assumptions and estimation uncertainties that have a significant risk of resulting in a material adjustment in the year ended 31 March 2020 is included in the following notes:

- Impairment of financial instruments: determining inputs into the ECL measurement model, including incorporation of forward looking information - determination of the fair value of financial instruments with significant unobservable inputs
- measurement of defined benefit obligations key actuarial assumptions
- recognition of deferred tax assets: availability of future taxable profit against which carry-forward tax losses can be used
- determination of the estimated useful lives of tangible assets and the assessment as to which components of the cost may be capitalised
- estimates regarding the value in use of the cash generating unit (CGU) for non financial assets based on the future cash flows; and
- recognition and measurement of provisions and contingencies; key assumptions about the likelihood and magnitude of an outflow of resources

6 Significant accounting policies

The Company has consistently applies the following accounting policies to all periods presented in these financial statements.

- a. Revenue recognition
 - Interest income from financial assets is recognised on an accrual basis using Effective Interest Rate ('EIR') method. The EIR is the rate that exactly discounts the estimated future cash receipts through the expected life of the financial instrument or a shorter period, where appropriate to the net carrying amount of the financial asset. The EIR is computed basis the expected cash flows by considering all the contractual terms of the financial instrument. The calculation includes all fees, transaction costs, and all other premiums or discounts paid or received between parties to the contract that are an integral part of the effective interest rate.

The interest revenue continues to be recognised at the original EIR applied on the gross carrying amount for financial assets (when the asset is not credit impaired). However, for the financial assets that have become credit impaired subsequent to the initial recognition, interest income is calculated by applying the effective interest rate to the amortised cost of the financial asset. If the asset is no longer credit-impaired, then the calculation of interest income reverts to the gross basis.

For financial assets that were credit impaired on initial recognition, interest income is calculated by applying the credit-adjusted effective interest rate to the amortised cost of the financial asset.

- ii. Penal interest and other overdue charges which are not included in effective interest rate is recognised on realisation, due to uncertainty of
- realisation and is accounted for accordingly. iii. Amount received from borrowers against loans and advances are appropriated due date-wise towards other debits, interest overdue and principal overdue, in that order, across the due dates, except in the case of one time or negotiated settlements, where the appropriation is done as per the terms of the settlement
- Recovery from bad debts written off is recognised as income on the basis of actual realisation from customers iv.
- Premium on pre-payment of loans/ reduction in interest rates is recognised as income on receipt basis vī. Income from factoring and other financing activities is accounted on accrual basis except in the case of non-performing assets where income is accounted on realization basis as per prudential guidelines laid down by the RBI

b. Financial instruments

I. Classifications and subsequent measurement

Financial assets

On initial recognition, a financial asset is classified as subsequently measured at either amortised cost or fair value through other comprehensive income ('FVTOCI') or FVTPL, depending on the contractual cash flow characteristics of the financial assets and the Company's business model for managing the financial assets

Business Model Assessment

The Company makes an objective assessment of the business model in which an asset is held at a portfolio level, because this best reflects the way the business is managed and information is provided to management. The information considered includes

. The stated policies and objectives for the portfolio and the operation of those policies in practice. In particular, whether management's strategy focuses on earning contractual interest revenue, maintaining a particular interest rate profile, matching the duration of the financial assets to the duration of the liabilities that are funding those assets or realising cash flows through the sale of the assets;

· The frequency, volume and timing of sales in prior periods, the reasons for such sales and its expectations about future sales activity. However, information about sales activity is not considered in isolation, but as part of an overall assessment of how the Company's stated objective for managing the financial assets is achieved and how cash flows are realized;

The risks that affect the performance of the business model (and the financial assets held within that business model) and how those risks are managed.

Financial assets are not reclassified subsequent to their initial recognition, except if and in the period the Company changes its business model for managing financial assets

Assessment whether contractual cash flows are solely payments of principal and interest

For the purpose of this assessment, 'principal' is defined as the fair value of the financial asset on initial recognition. 'Interest' is defined as consideration for the time value of money and for the credit risk associated with the principal amount outstanding during a particular period of time and for other basic lending risks and costs, as well as profit margin.

In assessing whether the contractual cash flows are solely payments of principal and interest, the Company applies judgement and considers all the contractual terms of the instrument. This includes assessing whether the financial asset contains any contractual term that could change the timing or amount of contractual cash flows such that it would not meet this condition. In making the said assessment, the Company considers prepayment and extension terms, features that modify consideration of the time value of money (e.g. periodical reset of the interest rates)

Financial assets at Amortised Cost

- A financial asset is measured at amortised cost only if both of the following conditions are met-
- It is held within a business model whose objective is to hold assets in order to collect contractual cash flows.
- . The contractual terms of the financial asset represent contractual cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest.

Subsequently, these are measured at amortised cost using the effective interest rate (EIR) method less any impairment losses.

Financial assets at Fair Value through Other Comprehensive Income ('FVTOCI')

A financial asset is measured at FVTOCI only if both of the following conditions are met:

- . It is held within a business model whose objective is achieved by both collecting contractual cash flows and selling financial assets.
- The contractual terms of the financial asset represent contractual cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest.

Subsequently, these are measured at fair value and changes therein, are recognised in other comprehensive income. Impairment losses on said financial assets are recognised in other comprehensive income and do not reduce the carrying amount of the financial asset in the balance sheet

Financial assets at Fair Value through Profit and Loss (FVTPL)

Any financial instrument, which does not meet the criteria for categorisation as at amortised cost or as FVOCI, is classified as at FVTPL.

Subsequently, these are measured at fair value and changes therein, are recognised in profit and loss account.

Investment in equity instruments

All equity investments in scope of Ind AS 109 (i.e. other than equity investments in subsidiaries / associates / joint ventures) are measured at FVTPL.

Subsequently, these are measured at fair value and changes therein, are recognised in profit and loss account. However on initial recognition of an equity instrument that is not held for trading, the Company may irrevocably elect to present subsequent changes in fair value in OCI. This election is made on an investment by investment basis.

Financial liabilities and equity instruments

Debt and equity instruments issued by the Company are classified as either financial liabilities or as equity in accordance with the substance of the contractual arrangements and the definitions of a financial liability and an equity instrument.

Financial liabilities are classified, at initial recognition, as financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss or amortised cost, as appropriate and is accordingly accounted for.

An equity instrument is any contract that evidences a residual interest in the assets of an entity after deducting all of its liabilities. Equity instruments issued by the Company is recognised at the proceeds received, net of directly attributable transaction costs.

III. Measurement Basis

Amortised cost

Amortised cost is the amount at which the financial asset or financial liability is measured at initial recognition minus the principal repayments, plus or minus the cumulative amortisation using the EIR method of discount or premium on acquisition and fees or costs that are an integral part of the EIR and, for financial assets, adjusted for any loss allowance.

Fair Valuation

Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date in the principal or, in its absence, the most advantageous market to which the Company has access at that date. The fair value of a liability reflects it non-performance risk.

When one is available, the Company measures the fair value of an instrument using the quoted price in an active market for that instrument. A market is regarded as active if transactions for the asset or liability take place with sufficient frequency and volume to provide pricing information on an ongoing basis.

If there is no quoted price in an active market, then the Company uses valuation techniques that maximise the use of relevant observable inputs and minimise the use of unobservable inputs. The valuation technique incorporates all of the factors that market participants would take into account in pricing a transaction.

IV. De-recognition/Modification of financial assets and financial liabilities

Derecognition of financial assets and financial liabilities

Financial assets

A financial asset (or, where applicable, a part of a financial asset or part of a group of similar financial assets) is primarily de-recognised (i.e. removed from the Company's balance sheet) when:

· The rights to receive cash flows from the asset have expired, or

• The Company has transferred its rights to receive cash flows from the asset or has assumed an obligation to pay the received cash flows in full without material delay to a third party under a 'pass-through' arrangement; and either (a) the Company has transferred substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset, or (b) the Company has neither transferred nor retained substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset, but has transferred control of the asset.

When the Company has transferred its rights to receive cash flows from an asset or has entered into a pass-through arrangement, it evaluates if and to what extent it has retained the risks and rewards of ownership. When it has neither transferred nor retained substantially all of the risks and rewards of the asset, nor transferred control of the asset, the Company continues to recognize the transferred asset to the extent of the Company's continuing involvement. The Company also recognise a liability for the consideration received attributable to the Company's continuing involvement on the asset transferred. The transferred asset and the associated liability are measured on a basis that reflects the rights and obligations that the Company has retained.

On de-recognition of a financial asset, the difference between the carrying amount of the asset (or the carrying amount allocated to the portion of the asset de-recognised) and the sum of (i) the consideration received (including any new asset obtained less any new liability assumed) and (ii) any cumulative gain or loss that had been recognised in OCI is recognised in profit or loss.

Financial liabilities

The Company de-recognises a financial liability when its contractual obligations are discharged or cancelled, or expired.

Modifications of financial assets and financial liabilities

Financial assets

If the terms of a financial asset are modified, the Company evaluates whether the cash flows of the modified asset are substantially different. If the cash flows are substantially different, then the modification results in derecognition of the original financial asset and new financial asset is recognised at fair value.

If the cash flows of the modified asset are not substantially different, then the modification does not result in de-recognition of the financial asset. In this case, the Company recalculates the gross carrying amount of the financial asset and recognises the amount arising from adjusting the gross carrying amount as a modification gain or loss in profit or loss. Any costs or fees incurred adjust the carrying amount of the modified financial asset and are amortised over the remaining term of the modified financial asset by recomputing the EIR rate on the instrument.

If such a modification is carried out because of financial difficulties of the borrower, then the gain or loss is presented together with impairment losses. In other cases, it is presented as interest income.

Financial liabilities

The Company de-recognizes a financial liability when its terms are modified and the cash flows of the modified liability are substantially different. In this case, a new financial liability based on the modified terms is recognised at fair value. The difference between the carrying amount of the financial liability extinguished and the new financial liability with modified terms is recognised in profit or loss.

If the modification is not accounted as derecognition, then the amortised cost of the liability is recalculated by discounting the modified cash flows at the original EIR and the resulting gainor loss is recognised in profit or loss. Any costs or fees incurred adjust the carrying amount of the modified financial liability and are amortised over the remaining term of the modified financial liability by recomputing the EIR rate on the instrument.

VI. Offsetting of financial instruments

Financial assets and financial liabilities are offset and the net amount is reported in the balance sheet when the Company has a legally enforceable right to offset the recognised amounts and there is an intention to settle on a net basis, or realize the asset and settle the liability simultaneously.

VII. Impairment of Financial Assets

The Company recognises impairment allowances for ECL on all the financial assets that are not measured at FVTPL:

ECL are probability weighted estimate of credit losses. They are measured as follows:

- financial assets that are not credit impaired as the present value of all cash shortfalls that are possible within 12 months after the reporting date.
- financial assets with significant increase in credit risk but not credit impaired as the present value of all cash shortfalls that result from all possible default events over the expected life of the financial asset.
- financial assets that are credit impaired as the difference between the gross carrying amount and the present value of estimated cash flows
- undrawn loan commitments as the present value of the difference between the contractual cash flows that are due to the Company if the commitment is drawn down and the cash flows that the Company expects to receive
 With respect to trade receivables and other financial assets, the Company measures the loss allowance at an amount equal to lifetime expected credit losses.

Loss allowances for financial assets measured at amortised cost are deducted from the gross carrying amount of the assets. For financial assets at FVTOCL the loss allowance is recognised in OCL

Write-off

Financial assets are written off (either partially or in full) when there is no reasonable expectation of recovering a financial asset in its entirety or a portion thereof. This is generally the case when the Company determines that the borrower does not have assets or sources of income that could generate sufficient cash flows to repay the amounts subject to the write-off. This assessment is carried out at the individual asset level.

However, financial assets that are written off could still be subject to enforcement activities under the Group's recovery procedures, taking into account legal advice where appropriate. Any recoveries made are recognised in profit or loss

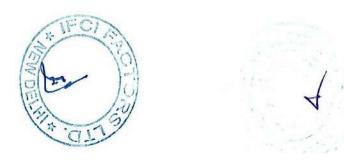

Investment in subsidiaries, associates and joint ventures

The Company accounts for its investments in subsidiaries, associates and joint ventures at cost less accumulated impairment, if any.

Employee benefits

i. Short term employee benefits

Short term employee benefits are expensed as the related service is provided. A liability is recognised for the amount expected to be paid if the Company has a present legal or constructive obligation to pay this amount as a result of past service provided by the employee and the obligation can be estimated reliably.

ii. Post employement benefits

a. Defined benefit plans

Provident Fund

The Company pays fixed contribution to Provident Fund at predetermined rates to a separate trust, which invests the funds in permitted securities. The contributions to the fund for the year are recognized as expense and are charged to the profit or loss. The obligation of the Company is to make such fixed contributions and to ensure a minimum rate of return to the members as specified by the Government of India (GoI).

Gratuity

The Company has a defined benefit employee scheme in the form of Gratuity. Expense for the year is determined on the basis of actuarial valuation of the Company's vear-end obligation in this regard and the value of vear end assets of the scheme.

iii. Other long term employee benefits

Benefits under the Company's leave encashmenand and leave fare concession constitute other long term employee benefits. The Company's net obligation in respect of leave encashment is the amount of future benefit that employees have present value, and the fair value of any related assets is deducted. The calculation is performed using the projected unit credit method. Any actuarial gains or losses are recognized in profit or loss in the period in which they arise. Provison for Leave fare concession is being made on actuarial valuation basis.

) Income Taxes

Income-tax expense comprises of current tax (i.e. amount of tax for the period determined in accordance with the income tax law) and deferred tax charge or credit (reflecting the tax effects of temporary differences between tax base and book base). It is recognised in profit or loss except to the extent that it relates to a business combination, or items recognised directly in equity or in OCI.

I. Current tax

Current tax is measured at the amount expected to be paid in respect of taxable income for the year in accordance with the Income Tax Act, 1961, Current tax comprises the tax payable on the taxable income or loss for the year and any adjustment to the tax payable in respect of previous years. It is measured using tax rates enacted or substantively enacted at the reporting date. Minimum alternative tax ('MAT') under the provisions of the Income Tax Act, 1961 is recognised as current tax in the statement of profit and loss.

Current tax assets and liabilities are offset only if, the Company:

a) has a legally enforceable right to set off the recognised amounts; and

b) intends either to settle on a net basis, or to realize the asset and settle the liability simultaneously.

II. Deferred tax

Deferred tax is recognised in respect of temporary differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities for financial reporting purposes and the amounts used for taxation purposes. Deferred tax assets are reviewed at each reporting date and based on management's judgement, are reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that the related tax benefit will be realised; such reductions are reversed when the probability of future taxable profits improves.

Unrecognized deferred tax assets are reassessed at each reporting date and recognised to the extent that it has become probable that future taxable profits will be available against which they can be used. Deferred tax is measured at the tax rates that are expected to be applied to temporary differences when they reverse, using tax rates enacted or substantively enacted at the reporting date.

The measurement of deferred tax reflects the tax consequences that would follow from the manner in which the Company expects, at the reporting date, to recover or settle the carrying amount of its assets and liabilities.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset only if the Company:

- a) has a legally enforceable right to set off current tax assets against current tax liabilities; and
- b) the deferred tax assets and the deferred tax liabilities relate to income taxes levied by the same taxation authority.

The credit available under the Act in respect of MAT paid is recognised as an asset only when and to the extent there is convincing evidence that the Company will pay normal income tax during the period for which the MAT credit can be carried forward for set-off against the normal tax liability. MAT credit recognised as an asset is reviewed at each balance sheet date and written down to the extent the aforesaid convincing evidence no longer exists.

f) Property, plant and equipment and Investment property

Recognition and measurement

Property, plant and equipment held for use or for administrative purposes, are stated in the balance sheet at cost less accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment losses. The cost includes non-refundable taxes, duties, freight and other incidental expenses related to the acquisition and installation of the respective assets.

Depreciation

Depreciation is provided using the straight line method over the useful life as prescribed under Schedule II to the Companies Act, 2013. Depreciation is calculated on pro-rata basis, including the month of addition and excluding the month of sale/disposal. Leasehold improvements are amortised over the underlying lease term on a straight line basis.Residual value in respect of Buildings and Vehicles is considered as 5% of the cost and in case of other assets ' 'Nil'. The estimated useful lives, residual values and depreciation method are reviewed at the end of each reporting period, with the effect of any

The estimated useful lives, residual values and depreciation method are reviewed at the end of each reporting period, with the effect of any changes in estimate accounted for on a prospective basis.

De-recognition

An item of property, plant and equipment or investment property is de-recognized upon disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected to arise from the continued use of the asset. Any gain or loss arising on the disposal or retirement of an item of property, plant and equipment or investment property is determined as the difference between the sales proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset and is recognised in profit or loss.

Transition to Ind AS

The Company has elected to continue with the carrying value of all of its property, plant and equipment and investment property recognised as of April 1, 2017 (the transition date) measured as per the previous GAAP and use such carrying value as its deemed cost as of the transition date.

g) Intangible assets

Recognition and measurement

Intangible assets are recognized at cost of acquisition which includes all expenditure that can be directly attributed or allocated on a reasonable and consistent basis, to create, produce or making the asset ready for its intended use.

Amortisation

Amortisation is recognised on a straight-line basis over their estimated useful lives. The estimated useful life and amortisation method are reviewed at the end of each reporting period, with the effect of any changes in estimate being accounted for on a prospective basis.

De-recognition

An intangible asset is de-recognized on disposal, or when no future economic benefits are expected from use or disposal. Gains or losses arising from de-recognition of an intangible asset, measured as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset, is recognised in profit or loss when the asset is de-recognized.

Transition to Ind AS

The Company has elected to continue with the carrying value of all of its intangible asset recognised as of April 1, 2017 (the transition date) measured as per the previous GAAP and use such carrying value as its deemed cost as of the transition date.

h) Impairment of non-financial assets

At each reporting date, the Company reviews the carrying amount of its non financial assets (other than assets held for sale and deferred tax assets) to determine whether there is any indication of impairment. If any such indication exists, then the asset's recoverable amount is estimated.

For impairment testing, assets are grouped together into the smallest group of assets that generates cash inflows from continuing use that is largely independent of the cash inflows of other assets or CGUs.

The 'recoverable amount' of an asset or CGU is the greater of its value in use and its fair value less costs to sell. 'Value in use' is based on the estimated future cash flows, discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset or CGU.

Impairment losses are recognised in profit and loss. An impairment loss is reversed only to the extent that the asset's carrying amount does not exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined, net of depreciation or amortisation, if no impairment loss had been recognised

i) Foreign currency transactions

The expenses and income in foreign exchange transactions are accounted for at the rates prevailing on the date of transactions/ at the forward rate, if booked, for such transaction. Assets and liabilities held in foreign currencies and accrued income and expenditure in foreign currencies are translated into Indian Rupees at the rates advised by Foreign Exchange Dealers Association of India (FEDAI) prevailing towards the close of the accounting period. Gains/ losses, if any, on valuation of various assets and liabilities are taken to Statement of Profit & Loss

j) Provisions and contingencies related to claims, litigation, etc.

Provisions are recognised when the Company has a legal and constructive obligation as a result of a past event, for which it is probable that cash outflow will be required and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation. Provisions are measured at the present value of management's best estimate of the expenditure required to settle the present obligation at the end of the reporting period. The discount rate used to determine the present value is a pre-tax rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the liability.

k) Contingent liabilities and contingent assets

A contingent liability exists when there is a possible but not probable obligation, or a present obligation that may, but probably will not, require an outflow of resources, or a present obligation whose amount cannot be estimated reliably. Contingent liabilities do not warrant provisions, but are disclosed unless the possibility of outflow of resources is remote.

Contingent assets are disclosed in the financial statements where an inflow of economic benefits is probable.

1) Cash and cash equivalent

Cash and cash equivalents include balance with banks in current accounts and term deposits, cash & cheques in hand and money lent on collateralized lending & borrowing obligations transactions.

m) Borrowing Costs

Borrowing costs directly attributable to the acquisition, construction or production of qualifying assets, which are assets that necessarily take a substantial period of time to get ready for their intended use or sale, are added to the cost of those assets, until such time as the assets are substantially ready for their intended use or sale.

Interest income carned on the temporary investment of specific borrowings pending their expenditure on qualifying assets is deducted from the borrowing costs eligible for capitalisation.

All other borrowing costs are recognised in profit or loss in the period in which they are incurred.

n) Derivative Financial Instruments

The Company enters into derivative financial instruments to manage its exposure to interest rate and foreign exchange rate risks, including foreign exchange forward contracts, interest rate swaps and cross currency swaps.

Derivatives are initially recognised at fair value at the date the derivative contracts are entered into and are subsequently remeasured to their fair value at the end of each reporting period. The resulting gain or loss is recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss immediately unless the derivative is designated and effective as a hedging instrument, in which event the timing of the recognition in the Statement of Profit and Loss depends on the nature of the hedging relationship and the nature of the hedged item.

o) Segment reporting

Operating segments are reported in a manner consistent with the internal reporting provided to the Chief Operating Decision Maker (CODM) of the company. The CODM is responsible for allocating resources and assessing performance of the operating segments of the Company. Refer note XX for details on segment information presented.

p) Classification of Assets and Provisioning

i) All credit exposures are classified into performing and non-performing assets (NPAs) as per guidelines laid down by the RBI. Further, NPAs are classified into sub-standard, doubtful and loss assets based on the criteria stipulated by RBI.

ii) Provision for NPAs and restructured/rescheduled assets is made as per guidelines laid down by the RBL

iii) Provision for standard assets is made @ 0.50%.

Additional provision is made against specific assets over and above what is stated above, if in the opinion of the management, increased provision is necessary.

iv) As per RBI rules and regulation at the time of becoming NPA 10% provision is to be made but as per IFL policy 15% provision is made. v) IFL have provisioning and write off policy which was approved on dated 29/04/2013 aligned as per RBI policy. According to that in case of unsecured loan we have to make 15% provision on the date of accounts being classified as sub-standard and after 12 month we have to make provision 100% (after classification account as a doubtful).

From April 2017 onwards RBI policy has become more stringent. As per RBI policy on the date of account classification as sub-standard we have to make provision 10% and after 12 month we have to make provision 100% (after classification account as a doubtful). So we are following RBI policy as our policy has become outdated.

q) Factored Debts

Debts factored are shown under 'Loans'. The unpaid balance of debts factored and due to the clients on collection is included under 'Other Financial Liabilities' as 'Contractual Liability against Collection of Factoring'.

r) IND AS 116 Leases

The Company assesses whether a contract contains a lease, at the inception of the contract. A contract is, or contains, a lease if the contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset for a period of time in exchange for consideration. To assess whether a contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset, the Company considers whether (i) the contract involves the use of identified assets (ii) the Company has substantially all of the economic benefits from the use of the asset through the period of lease and (iii) the Company has right to direct the use of the asset.

As a lessee

The Company recognises a right-of-use asset and a lease liability at the lease commencement date. The right-of-use asset is initially measured at cost, which comprises the initial amount of the lease liability Company is reasonably certain to exercise, lease payments in an optional renewal period if the Company is reasonably certain to exercise an extension option.

The lease liability is subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method. It is remeasured when there is a change in future lease payments arising from a change in an index or rate, if there is a change in the Company's estimate of the amount expected to be payable under a residual value guarantee, or if Company changes its assessment of whether it will exercise a purchase, extension or termination option.

When the lease liability is remeasured in this way, a corresponding adjustment is made to the carrying amount of the right-of-use asset or is recorded in profit or loss if the carrying amount of the right-of-use asset has been reduced to zero.

Lease Liability and the right of use asset have been adjusted for any lease payments made at or before the commencement date, plus any initial direct costs incurred and an estimate of costs to dismantle and remove the underlying asset or to restore the site on which it is located, lease incentives received. Certain lease arrangements include the option to extend or terminate the lease before the end of the lease term. The right-of-use assets and lease liabilities include these options when it is reasonably certain that the option will be exercised. The right-of-use asset is subsequently depreciated using the straight-line method from the commencement date to the earlier of the end of the useful life of the right-of-use asset or the end of the lease term. The estimated useful lives of right-of-use assets are determined on the same basis as those of property, plant and equipment. In addition, the right-of-use asset is periodically reduced by impairment losses, if any, and adjusted for certain re-measurements of the lease liability.

The lease liability is initially measured at the present value of the lease payments that are not paid at the commencement date, discounted using the interest rate implicit in the lease or, if that rate cannot be readily determined, the Company's incremental borrowing rate. Generally, the Company uses its incremental borrowing rate as the discount rate.

The lease liability is initially measured at the present value of the lease payments that are not paid at the commencement date, discounted using the interest rate implicit in the lease or, if that rate cannot be readily determined, the Company's incremental borrowing rate. Generally, the Company uses its incremental borrowing rate as the discount rate.

As a lessor

Leases for which the Company is a lessor is classified as finance or operating leases. When the terms of the lease transfer substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership to the lessee, the contract is classified as a finance lease. A_{ii}^{μ} other leases are classified as operating leases.

When the Company is an intermediate lessor, it accounts for its interests in the head lease and the sublease separately. The sublease is classified as a finance or operating lease by reference to the right of use asset arising from the head lease.

Critical accounting estimate and judgement

1. Determination of lease term

Ind AS 116 Leases requires lessee to determine the lease term as the non-cancellable period of a lease adjusted with any option to extend or terminate the lease, if the use of such option is reasonably certain. The Company makes assessment on the expected lease term on lease by lease basis and thereby assesses whether it is reasonably certain that any options to extend or terminate the contract will be exercised. In evaluating the lease term, the Company considers factors such as any significant [easeho]d improvements undertaken over the lease term, costs relating to the termination of lease and the importance of the underlying to the Company's operations taking into account the location of the underlying asset and the availability of the suitable alternatives. The lease term in future periods is reassessed to ensure that the lease term reflects the current economic circumstances.

2. Discount rate

The discount rate is generally based on the incremental borrowing rate specific to the lease being evaluated or for a portfolio of leases with similar characteristics.

Changes in accounting policies / Transition note:

On March 30, 2019, the Ministry of Corporate Affairs ("MCA") through the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Amendment Rules, 2019 and the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Second Amendment Rules, has notified Ind AS 116 Leases which replaces the existing lease standard, Ind AS 17 Leases and other interpretations.

Ind AS 116 sets out the principles for the recognition, measurement, presentation and disclosure of leases for both lessees and lessors. It introduces a single, on-balance sheet lease accounting model for lessees.

Effective from 1 April 2019 ('the date of transition'), the Company applied Ind AS 116 using the modified retrospective approach, wherein Right- of-use ('ROU') asset is recognised at an amount equal to the lease liability. Accordingly, the comparative information is not restated - i.e. it is presented, as previously reported, under Ind AS 17. Additionally, the disclosure requirements in Ind AS 116 have not generally been applied to comparative information.

36 Transfers of financial assets

In the ordinary course of business, the Company enters into transactions that result in the transfer of loans and advances. A. Transferred financial assets that are not derecognised in their entirety

Sale of NPA loans to asset reconstruction companies (ARCs)

Sale of NPA loans to asset reconstruction companies (ARCs)' are transactions in which the Company sells loan and advances to an unconsolidated special vehicle and simultaneously purchases the majority portion of security receipts issued by said vehicle. The security receipts are collateralised by the loans purchased by the vehicle and hence the cash flow of the security receipts is dependent on the recovery of purchased loans. The Company continues to recognise that part of the loans in their entirety against which security receipts have been subscribed by the Company because it retains substantially all of the risks and rewards of ownership w.r.t that part of the transferred loan. The part of loan transferred against which cash consideration is received is derecognised.

The following table sets out the carrying amounts and fair values of all financial assets transferred that are not derecognised in their entirety and associated liabilities.

B. Fair value hierarchy
 This section explains the judgements and estimates made in determining the fair values of the financial instruments that are:
 (a) recognised and measured at fair value and
 (b) measured at amortised cost and for which fair values are disclosed in the financial statements.

To provide an indication about the reliability of the inputs used in determining fair value, the Company has classified its financial instruments into the three levels prescribed under the accounting standard. An explanation of each level follows underneath the table.

C. Valuation framework

The finance department of the group includes a team that performs the valuations of financial assets and liabilities required for financial reporting purposes, including level 3 fair values. This team reports directly to the chief financial officer (CFO) and the audit committee (AC). Discussions of valuation processes and results are held between the CFO, AC and the valuation team at least once every three months, in line with the group's quarterly reporting periods. Specific controls include :

- verification of observable pricing - re-performance of model valuations

- review and approval process for new models and chages to models

- review of significant unobservable imputs, valuation adjustments and significant changes to the fair value measurement of Level 3 instruments

The Company measures fair values using the following fair value hierarchy, which reflects the significance of the inputs used in making the measurements.

Level 1: Inputs that are quoted market prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.

Level 2 : The fair value of financial instruments that are not traded in active markets is determined using valuation techniques which maximize the use of observable market data either directly or indirectly, such as quoted prices for similar assets and liabilities in active markets, for substantially the full term of the financial instrument but do not qualify as Level 1 inputs. If all significant inputs required to fair value an instrument are observable the instrument is included in level 2.

Level 3 : If one or more of the significant inputs is not based in observable market data, the instruments is included in level 3. That is, Level 3 inputs incorporate market participants' assumptions about risk and the risk premium required by market participants in order to bear that risk. The Bank develops Level 3 inputs based on the best information available in the circumstances.

Valuation techniques include net present value and discounted cash flow models. Assumptions and inputs used in valuation techniques include risk-free and benchmark interest rates, credit spreads and other premium used in estimating discount rates and expected price volatilities and correlations

The objective of valuation techniques is ti arrive at a fair value measurement that reflects the price that would be received to sell the asset or paid to transfer the liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date.

The Company uses widely recognised valuation models to determine the fair value of common and simple financial instruments, that use only observable market data and require little management judgement and estimation. Observable prices or model inputs are usually available in the market for OTC derivatives such as forward rate agreements. The availability of observable market prices and model inputs reduces the need for management judgement and estimation and also reduces the uncertainity associated with determining fair values.

Financial instruments valued at carrying value

The respective carrying values of certain on-balance sheet financial instruments approximated their fair value. These financial instruments include cash in hand, balances with other banks, trade receivables, trade payables and certain other financial assets and liabilities. Carrying values were assumed to approximate fair values for these financial instruments as they are short-term in nature and their recorded amounts approximate fair values or are receivable or payable on demand.

The board of directors has established the risk management com-responsible for developing and monitoring the Company's risk management policies. The committee reports regularly to the board of directors on its octivities. tee, which is

The addit committee is assisted in its oversight role by internal audit. Internal audit undertakes both regular and ad hoc reviews of risk management controls and procedures, the results of which are reported to the audit committee.

B. Credit risk

Credit risk arises from loans and advances, cash and cash eouivalents, investment in debt securities and derosits with banks and financial institutions and any other financial assets. Credit risk is the risk of financial loss to the Company's asset on finance and trade receivables from customers, loans and investments in debt securities. The carrying amounts of financial assets represent the maximum credit risk exposure

a) Credit risk management The Company's exposure to credit risk is influenced mainly by the individual characteristics of each customer. However, management also considers the factors that may influence the credit risk of its customer base, including the default risk associated with the industry. A financial asset is 'credit-impaired' when one or more events that have a detrimental impact on the estimated future cash flows of the financial asset is 'credit-impaired' includes the following observable data: * againficant financial difficulty of the borrower of issuer: * a breach of contract such as a default or past dive event; * the restructuring of a lean or advance by the Company on terms that the Company would not consider otherwise, or * it is becoming probable that the borrower and lear backruptcy or other financial re-organization; * the restructuring has estimated a credit uplicy terms and conditions are offered.

The risk management committee has established a credit policy under which each new customer is analyzed individually for credit worthiness before the Company's standard payment and delivery terms and conditions are offered. The Company's review includes external ratings, if they are available, background verification, financial statements, income tax returns, credit agency information, industry information, etc. Credit limits are established for each customer and reviewed quarterly. Any loss rescenting those limits require approxed from the risk management committee.

b) Probability of default (PD) Internal rating is the primary input into the determination of the term structure of PD for exposures. The Company collects performance and default information about its credit risk exposures analysed by jurisdictions or region and type of product or borrower.

The Company employs statistical models to analyse the data collected and generate estimates of the remaining lifetime PD of exposures and how these are expected to change as a result of passage of time.

c) Definition of default and cure The Company considers probability of default dam therefore Stage 3 (credit-impaired) for ECL calculations in all cases when the borrower is rated as either 9 or 10. The Company considers probability of default upon initial recognition of asset and whether there has been any significant increase in credit risk on an ongoing basis throughout each reporting period. To assess whether there is a significant increase in credit risk the Company compares the risk of default occurring on the asset as at the reporting date with the risk of default as at the date of initial recognition. It considers available reasonable and supportive forward-looking information. Following indications are incorporated:

Macroeconomic information (such as regulatory changes, market interest rate or growth rates) is incorporated as part of the internal rating model. In general, it is presamed that credit risk has significantly increased since initial recognition if the payments are more than 30 days past dae.

It is the Company's policy to consider a financial instrument as 'cured' and therefore re-classified out of Stage 3 when none of the default criteria have been present for at least six consecutive months. The decision whether to classify an asset as Stage 2 or Stage 1 once cured depends on the updated credit grade, at the time of the cure, and whether this indicates there has been a significant increase in credit risk compared to initial recognition.

d) Exposure at default (EAD) The exposure at default (EAD) represents the gross carrying amount of the financial instruments subject to the impairment calculation, addressing both the client's ability to increase its exposure while approaching default and potential early repayments too. To calculate the EAD for a Stage 1 loan, the Company assesses the possible default events within 12 months for the calculation of the 12mECL. However, if a Stage 1 loan that is expected to default in the 12 months from the balance sheet date and is also expected to cure and subsequently default again, then all linked default events are taken into account. For Stage 2, Stage 3 and POCI financial assets, the exposure at default is considered for events over the lifetime of the instruments.

The Company determines RADs by modelling the range of possible exposure outcomes at various points in time, corresponding the multiple scenarios. The Ind AS 109 PDs are then assigned to each economic scenario based on the outcome of Company's models.

e) Loss eiven default (LGD) Recovery pattern for the last 10 years of the Company from the reporting date is used to calculate LGD. The Company evaluates all the loans those are defaulted and closed in the last 10 years for recovery efficiency and accordingly calculates the LGD for the Company.

D Significant increase in credit risk The Group continuously monitors all assets subject to ECLs. In order to determine whether an instrument or a portfolio of instruments is subject to 12 months ECL or life time ECL, the Group assesses whether there has been a significant increase in credit risk for an asset, such as moving a customer/facility to the watch list, or the account becoming forborne. Regardless of the change in credit gades, if rating is degraded by more than 3 basis points, the credit risk is deemed to have increased significantly since initial recognition.

ø) Provision for expected credit losses The Company's exposure to credit risk for asset on finance, trade receivables and other financial assets by type of counterparty is as follows.

	As at 31 March 2020
	Stage 1	Stage 2	Stage J	POCI	Total
Loans and advances at amortised cost
Low-fair risk Higher risk Loss	20.372.00	2.912.00	34,927,39		20.372.00 2.912.00 34.927.39

Notes to financial statements for the year ended 31 March 2020 (All amounts are in INR Lakhs unless otherwise stated)

	As at 31 March 2019
	Stage 1	Stage 2	Stage 3	POCI	Total
Loans and advances at amortised cost
Low-fair risk Hisher risk Loss	25.956.12	3,821.64	33.517.66		25,956.12 3,821.64 33,517.66
Loss allowance	25,956.12	3.821.64	33,517.66	1.72	63.295.41
Carrying value	25,956.12	3.821.64	33,517.66		63,295.41

The Company has applied a three-stage approach to measure expected credit losses (ECL) on loans accounted for at amortised cost and FVOCI. Loss rates are calculated using past trend of Five years.

(a) Stage 1: 12- months ECL: For exposures where there is no significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition and that are not credit-impaired upon origination, the portion of the lifetime ECL associated with the probability of default events occurring within the next 12- months is recognized.

(b) Stage 2: Lifetime ECL, not credit-impaired; For credit exposures where there has been a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition but are not credit-impaired, a lifetime ECL is recognized.

(c) Stage 3: Lifetime ECL, credit-impaired: Financial assets are assessed as credit impaired upon occurrence of one or more events that have a detrimental impact on the estimated future cash flows of that asset. For financial assets that have become credit-impaired, a lifetime ECL is recognized and interest revenue is calculated by applying the effective interest rate to the amortised cost

At each reporting date, the Company assesses whether there has been a significant increase in credit risk of its financial assets since initial recognition by comparing the risk of default occurring over the expected life of the asset. In determining whether credit risk has increased significanty since initial recognition, the Company uses information that is relevant and available without undue cost or effort. This includes the Company's internal credit rating grading system, external risk ratings and forward-looking information to assess deterioration in credit quality of a financial asset.

Cash and cash equivalents

The Company holds cash and cash equivalents of INR 2165.49 Lakhs at 31 March 2020 (31 March 2019: INR 1060.16 Lakhs). The cash and cash equivalents are held with bank and financial institution counterparties, which are rated AA+ to AA+, based on CRISIL ratings.

Impairment on cash and cash equivalents has been measured on the 12-month expected loss basis and reflects the short maturities of the exposures. The Company considers that its cash and cash equivalents have low credit risk based on the external credit ratings of the counterparties.

The Company uses a similar approach for assessment of ECLs for cash and cash equivalents as used for debt securities.

k) Collateral held and other credit enhancements

The company's loans are generally secured by a charge on the asset financed (vehicle loans, property loans and loans against gold and securities). Loans are secured with current assets as well as immovable property and fixed assets in some cases.

Collateral securing each individual loan may not be adequate in relation to the value of the loan. All borrowers must meet the comany's internal credit assessment procedures, regardless of whether the loan is secured. In addition to the collateral stated above, the company holds other types of collateral such as second charges and floating charges for which specific values are generally not available.

The following table sets out the principal types of collateral held against different types of financial assets.

C. Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that the Company will encounter difficulty in meeting the obligations associated with its financial liabilities that are settled by delivering cash or another financial asset. The Company's approach to managing liquidity is to ensure, as far as possible, that it will have sufficient liquidity to meet its liabilities when they are due, under both normal and stressed conditions, without incurring unacceptable losses or risking damage to the Company's reputation. The Company uses activity-based costing to cost its products and services, which assists it in monitoring cash flow requirements and optimising its each return on investments.

ii. Capital allocation

Management uses regulatory capital ratios to monitor its capital base. The allocation of capital between specific operations and activities is, to a large extent, driven by optimisation of the return achieved on the capital allocated. The amount of capital allocated to each operation or activity is based primarily on regulatory capital requirements, but in some cases the regulatory requirements do not fully reflect the varying degree of risk associated with different activities. In such cases, the capital requirements may be flexed to reflect differing risk profiles, subject to the overall level of capital to support a particular operation or activity not falling below the minimum required for regulatory purposes. The process of allocating capital to specific operations and activities is undertaken independently of those responsible for the operation by Company Risk and Company Credit, and is subject to review by the Company Asset and Liability Management Committee (ALCO).

Although maximisation of the return on risk-adjusted capital is the principal basis used in determining how capital is allocated within the Company to particular operations or activities, it is not the sole basis used for decision making. Account is also taken of synergies with other operations and activities, the availability of management and other resources, and the fit of the activity with the Company's longer-term strategic objectives. The Company's policies in respect of capital management and allocation are reviewed regularly by the Board of Directors.
